Envoys of Allies Given Details on Ike-Khrush Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department called in ambassadors of its 14 North Atlantic allies today to give them a detailed report on President Eisenhower's talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

This is an early move in the process of consultation which may lead to a summit conference later this year or early in 1960. A series of discussions over the next few weeks will determine whether, when and where a summit conference should be held or alternatively whether the Big Four foreign ministers should meet again soon to reopen negotiations on Berlin.

Typhoon Erases Farming Town

Japanese Death Toll Climbs Past 2,000

NAGASHIMA, Japan (AP) — This central Japanese town of 7,000 people was a prosperous farming community lying between two peaceful rivers running into the Pacific—until Saturday.

Now it is a hell hole.

Bloated bodies—human and cattle—float in muddy, brown floodwaters that enveloped 95 per cent of Nagashima when Typhoon Vera turned the rivers into raging killers.

The stench of death is everywhere.

Nagashima is typical of many Japanese cities, towns and villages. The total of confirmed dead in the nation rose today to 2,002 with 2,015 missing. The typhoon was one of the worst natural disasters ever to hit the Japanese islands.

Nobody knows yet how many died in Nagashima. After four days, police and rescue workers are still unable to reach many isolated patches of ground.

On one patch of dry ground men, women and children huddled together, some weeping and moaning, some too shocked to whimper.

Some wore only underclothes. All were smeared with mud. They stood or knelt by bodies for which even straw covering was not available.

Most survivors in Nagashima haven't eaten in 3½ days.

Red Scientist Says Man To Conquer Space

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet scientist today predicted that space-probing earthlings eventually will meet up with beings from other worlds.

And together they would go on to conquer the cosmos.

"Soviet science already commands the means to send cosmic rockets to Mars and Venus," Moscow radio claimed.

In man's conquest of the cosmos Moscow radio reported, astronomer Felix Segal believes the space travelers will first colonize the Moon.

Then they will conquer the rest of the planets. Finally they will venture forth into other solar systems.

In a broadcast beamed to North America, Moscow radio said plans ready being drafted in fact to turn the Moon into a habitable planet. Basing its talk on Segal's predictions, the radio said men on the Moon will build hermetically sealed structures in which normal atmospheric pressures and temperatures will be maintained artificially.

In time, Moscow went on, if enough stations are built, they can generate an artificial atmosphere around the Moon. This will give rise to clouds, the first rains will fall, and rivers and seas will be created.

German ambassadors received an initial briefing Monday.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said in London that a summit conference of leaders of the great powers would be held in the near future.

Eisenhower made clear to reporters only that so far as he personally was concerned his requirements for a summit meeting had been substantially met.

But diplomatic officials said that while they expect a summit meeting will be held, a final agreement and arrangements still have to be worked out.

Eisenhower's chief objection to going to the summit was the existence of Khrushchev's threat, made last November, to take steps which would jeopardize the security of West Berlin and of the contingent of U.S., British and French troops stationed there.

The President said at his news conference Khrushchev had lifted the threat and in fact had stated emphatically "that never had he any intention to give anything that was to be interpreted as duress or compulsion."

As the communique ending their Camp David talks disclosed, the two men agreed on reopening of negotiations for the settlement of the Berlin problem.

In addition, Eisenhower said Khrushchev and he agreed that, in the President's words, "These negotiations should not be prolonged indefinitely but there could be no fixed time limit on them."

Eisenhower and his advisers considered Khrushchev's agreement to negotiate without a deadline as the agreement which effectively ended the crisis raised by Khrushchev last November.

Hoffa Shuns Orders To Oust Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa says he won't bring union ouster charges against three Teamsters chiefs as asked by the union's court-named overseers.

The Teamsters president also told reporters Monday he can find only five Teamsters officials disqualified by criminal records from holding office under the new labor control law. He said they will be eligible again in January, and have been placed on leave of absence until then.

The law forbids a man from holding union office within five years of a criminal conviction.

The monitors, named by federal court to check on Teamsters affairs, had recommended that Hoffa bring union ouster trials against Joey Glimco, Chicago taxi local Teamsters chief; Harold Gross, a Miami kingpin, and Anthony Provenzano, head of the New Jersey Joint Council.

All had been involved in Senate labor-management committee testimony about alleged payoffs and misuse of Teamsters funds.

"We have answered every one of the monitor charges in writing based on statements from the individuals involved," Hoffa said.

The monitors met again with Hoffa Monday night in trying to iron out their mounting conflicts with the Teamsters president. A half-dozen court actions are in the works seeking to get Hoffa's compliance.

Boy, 2, Prefers Plain Filters

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cigarette filters may be okay for the thinking man, but how about when you are hungry? Two-year-old Jeffery Parker wondered about that Monday night.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Parker found that the tips may be milder but certainly no more digestible. He could speak with authority, too. Fairview Park Hospital attendants pumped three or four filter tips from his stomach.

Jeffery's father said his son apparently was careful to discriminate. The youngster snapped off the tobacco parts of several cigarette stubs from an ash tray and popped the filters in his mouth.

The parents rushed the boy to the hospital when he became ill. He was released after treatment.

Reds Ending Harvest

Khrush's Liking for 'Okay' Recalls Derivation of Word

NEW YORK (AP)—At least one bit of genuine, home-grown Americana rubbed off on Nikita Khrushchev—the little word "okay."

It's a breezy, friendly term, born of a people who like to make up their language to suit the occasion.

Nikita liked it.

"I hope we will be able to use more and more in Russia that good short American word 'Okay'," he said as he left this country.

When he got home Monday he met cheering crowds in Moscow with a grin, a wave and by calling out "okay."

It's an adjective, a verb, an adverb, an approval, a piece of native slang that has become a part of the international dialect.

Whatever its use it denotes the positive, the agreeable.

In that light, it has over the years caught the world's ear.

Scores of stories have circulated about its origin — that it came from a Choctaw Indian phrase, "Oke Hoke," signifying, "yes, it is," or that Gen. Andrew Jackson started it when he said, after examining the papers of an accused man, Amos Kendall:

"Tie up them papers. Mark on them O.K. by the eternal, Amos is 'oll kurrekt' and no mistake."

Most thoroughly authenticated account seems to be that the word began in 1840 as the name of New York's Democratic "O.K. Club," which was supporting Martin Van Buren for the presidency, and took the initials from his home village, Old Kinderhook, N.Y.

The letters, "O.K." then became a sort of battery of other Democrats.

Schoolmarm once sought gallantly—but in vain—to suppress the word as a crude colloquialism and bad grammar. British language purists have denounced it as part of the "gibberish of morons" and a sign of "vast illiteracy."

But in America, with its tall talk, its resistance against rigid formalism and its fancy for the bold original, the word became one of the most frequently used in the nation—both on paper, and in speech.

Three Injured In Car Crash East of Here

A driver and two passengers were injured in a crash involving two cars on the Circleville-Stoutsville and Ringgold-Southern Roads four miles east of here at 5:45 p. m. yesterday.

Injured was Olive Lovett, 42, Stoutsville, driver of one of the cars. She was treated at Berger Hospital for lacerations of the forehead and left knee and possible skull injury.

Two passengers in her car, Wendell Lovett, 14, and Sharrell Lovett, 8, suffered lacerations and contusions.

Betty Lou Gentzel, 21, of 327½ Watt St., driver of the other auto, was not injured.

U.N. Panel Studies Rap Against China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N.'s 21-nation steering committee is expected to act quickly on an Irish-Malayan call for a General Assembly debate on Red Chinese oppression in Tibet.

But the move is getting a cool reception even from many non-Communists.

Ireland and Malaya requested Monday night that the Tibetan question be added to the Assembly's agenda. The Irish expressed confidence the committee would approve despite opposition from the Communists, neutralist and some colonial nations. They feel only the Reds will actually vote against a debate.

A U.S. spokesman said earlier the United States would welcome U.N. debate on the Tibetan question.

A confidential memorandum accompanying the request was said to cite a message from the Dalai Lama, fugitive ruler of Tibet, declaring that the Chinese Reds are trying to wipe out the Tibetan people.

If the steering committee approves the request for debate, the Irish have ready a resolution calling for respect for the "fundamental human rights of the Tibetan people and restoration of their civil and religious liberties."

Neutralist nations oppose a debate on Tibet because they feel it will only heighten East-West tensions.

Hurricane Hannah Follows Gracie's Path

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Hannah seems to be trying to follow the path of its howling older sister, Gracie.

Hannah today was located about 600 miles southeast of Bermuda, moving west southwest at 15 miles an hour.

Gordon Dunn, chief of the Miami Weather Bureau, said Hannah is much smaller than Gracie but probably would grow in size.

No Jury Probe On Lobbies Due

Legislators To Study Tightening of Laws

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A special grand jury will not be called to continue a probe of lobbyist-legislator activities, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Monday. However, a study has been promised with an eye toward amending existing laws.

He could find no justification to ask that a special grand jury be impaneled, DiSalle said after a 90-minute conference with legislative leaders, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy and Franklin County Prosecutor Earl Allison.

The Franklin County grand jury recently indicted Robert Scott of Cambridge for failure to properly itemize lobbying expense accounts for the 1957-59 sessions of the Legislature.

Allison said he had hoped the state would step into the investigation.

DiSalle, however, refused to order McElroy to call a special grand jury because he said such action should be taken only if local officials refuse to act. He added:

"I certainly can't make that finding here. I'm not going to ask the attorney general to call a special grand jury unless there is more evidence forthcoming. The testimony he (Allison) has had before the grand jury would not support an indictment or successful prosecution for bribery."

House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield), chairman of the Legislative Service Commission, said he will ask that the commission start immediate research on Ohio's lobbying laws to determine weaknesses that can be remedied at the 1961 session of the Legislature.

Lantz said the discussion at the conference Monday showed some very definite weaknesses in present lobbying laws. He said the commission would not undertake a continuation of the investigation, adding:

"But it certainly is our prerogative to study weaknesses in the laws and determine how these weaknesses can be remedied. The inability to obtain indictments on the evidence points out weakness in the laws."

Heavy Snow Covers Part Of Far West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy snow covered the Rocky Mountain states for the second consecutive day, billowing out from the spiny ridge of the Continental Divide to the Plains.

A cold rain changed to snow all along the eastern face of the mountains late Monday night.

The snow left a slushy path for motorists and pedestrians here and at Colorado Springs. Similar conditions prevailed from Cheyenne, Wyo., on the north to Trinidad, Colo., on the south.

The Weather Bureau here predicted continued snow and rain during the day for most of Colorado and Wyoming.

Clearing weather is expected tonight.

Across the country, a band of cold air from the Great Lakes down to Texas barred movement early today of lower temperatures eastward from the Rockies.

West of this band of cold air the temperatures were in the 30s and 40s while east of it there were adings were mostly in the 60s and 70s, the Weather Bureau reported.

Typhoon or Hurricane, What's the Difference?

NEW YORK (AP)—What's the difference between a typhoon and a hurricane?

Nothing. They're just different names for the same thing—fierce cyclonic winds accompanied by rain.

The name typhoon is used in the Orient to denote the type of storm. Hurricane is the term which came to be applied to the same sort of tempest originating in the West Indies.

Heckert Succeeds DuPont's Ridlon

DR. RICHARD E. HECKERT

Dr. Richard E. Heckert, 376 Markley Road, has been appointed manager of the Du Pont Company's Circleville plant, the company announced today.

He succeeds Emory F. Ridlon who is being transferred to the company's headquarters in Wilmington, Del. Ridlon will assume the newly-created position of production manager for "Mylar" polyester film in Du Pont's Film Department. Both appointments are effective Thursday.

Dr. Heckert, who has been assistant plant manager since last May, joined Du Pont in 1949 as a research chemist in the chemical department at the experimental station in Wilmington.

He was transferred to the Film Department in 1954 as a technical supervisor in the cellophane technical section in Richmond, Va., and was promoted to assistant manager of the section in the following year. He became technical superintendent of the Spruance Cellophane Plant in Richmond in 1957 and of the Clinton, Ia., cellophane plant in 1958.

Dr. Heckert was born in Oxford, O., and attended Miami University and graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry in 1944. He received the degree of Master of Arts in 1947 and Doctor of Philosophy in Organic Chemistry in 1949 from the University of Illinois.

RIDLON, who was designated plant manager of the Circleville plant in January 1953, while the plant was still in the planning stage, joined Du Pont in 1929 as a student operator at the Buffalo, N. Y., rayon plant.

He held supervisory positions at Buffalo and at the Spruance Cellophane Plant at Richmond, Va., and in 1933 was assigned to the Chambers Works of the Organic Chemicals Department at Deepwater Point, N. J., where he worked as a chemist and operating supervisor in tetraethyl lead manufacture.

Ridlon was transferred to the Baton Rouge, La., tetraethyl lead plant in 1937 where he later became assistant plant manager. In 1946 he was named assistant manager of the Neoprene synthetic rubber plant at Louisville, Ky., which Du Pont had built and, at that time, was operating for the United States Government. He became

Ike Books Vacation In California

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, fighting a cold, plans to fly to the desert country of southern California Wednesday for an eight-day stay.

The chief executive will be the house guest of an old friend, Washington business executive George E. Allen, at La Quinta, Calif., 20 miles from Palm Springs.

Allen and Eisenhower are frequent golfing and bridge companions, sometimes share vacations, and own farms a couple of miles apart at Gettysburg, Pa.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the President hopes to get away late Wednesday afternoon, flying by jet to the Palm Springs airport.

EMORY F. RIDLON

came plant manager later in the same year.

He returned to the Chambers Works in 1949 as superintendent of tetraethyl lead production and in 1950 was appointed manager of the Yerkes Film Plant in Buffalo. A native of Kezar Falls, Maine, Ridlon was graduated from the University of Maine in 1929 with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering.

Ridlon lives at 946 Circle Drive. He is president of the Circleville Rotary Club.

Ridlon's appointment reflects the continuing growth of "Mylar" polyester film, a versatile material with a wide variety of industrial and packaging uses.

"Mylar" was first produced commercially at Circleville in the summer of 1954. The Circleville Plant is now undergoing its second major expansion since startup. A new plant for production of the film is under construction at Florence, S. C., scheduled for completion early in 1961.

$3 Billion Aid Bill Signed by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed the $3,225,813,000 foreign aid bill. It also extends the life of the Civil Rights Commission for two years.

With its signing, Eisenhower completed action on the last of the bills Congress sent him before adjourning Sept. 15.

The amount of aid was $704,182,000 less than the President had asked for military and economic help to friendly or allied countries.

The catch-all bill, passed in the final hours of the session, also includes $500,000 to operate the Civil Rights Commission, 359 million for the highway trust fund, two millions for the Labor Department to cover the increased administrative costs of the new labor controls bill, and other minor appropriations.

Leading Thinkers Ponder Problems of Next Generations

NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Julian Huxley, author and biologist, said today a world population policy is necessary to prevent erosion of the world's resources.

"Man soon will be driven to plan a cooperative project aimed at securing greater fulfillment for more human beings," Sir Julian said at a symposium. "For this, he will need a vast program of research on human possibilities and methods for realizing them more fully."

Other panelists included Robert Frost, Pulitzer Prize poet; Dr. Hermann J. Muller, Nobel Prize zoologist; Devereux Josephs, chairman of the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School; and Dr. Ashley Montagu, anthropologist and social scientist.

Lord Bertrand Russell, Nobel Prize philosopher, participated by videotape and short-wave radio from London. Milton E. Eisenhower, President of the John Hop-

Mountainous Waves Battering Shoreline

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Hurricane Gracie smashed across the South Carolina shoreline today venting its full fury on this historic port city.

With the storm's center and its peak winds of 125 miles an hour reported slightly southwest of Charleston, high winds uprooted trees, tore down power and communication lines, and unroofed buildings. Historic structures were damaged.

Mountainous waves pounded beach installations from Savannah, Ga., to Myrtle Beach, S. C. High tides ranging up to 11 feet above normal sent waist-deep water coursing through streets here and in nearby communities. Highways and streets were blocked by flood water, fallen trees, tangled power lines and smashed buildings.

Metal signs sailed along almost deserted streets. Docks and smaller harbor installations disappeared.

An unidentified motorist was killed when his car overturned several times during the storm 10 miles west of Beaufort, S. C. There were no other immediate reports of deaths or serious injuries.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at noon said the storm was moving inland at about 14 miles an hour.

Hurricane force winds moved inland along with torrential rains and headed in the general direction of Charlotte, N.C.

The Weather Bureau warned that rains would range up to 10 and 15 inches and might cause serious flooding in some areas. Heavy rains were falling in eastern South Carolina and southeastern North Carolina and were expected to move northward.

Flooding during past hurricanes frequently has caused greater loss of life and damage than the powerful wind.

The Weather Bureau declared an emergency hurricane warning from Savannah to Wilmington, N. C., with gale warnings from Brunswick, Ga., to Morehead City, N. C.

Extremely high tides were forecast from Charleston to Wilmington ranging up to 11 feet above normal.

The Weather Bureau said hurricane winds continued to extend some 75 miles north of the hurricane eye and about 50 miles south of it. Gale winds of 40 miles an hour range outward as far as 200 miles.

With the urgent warnings of the Weather Bureau, Red Cross and other officials, most residents of exposed areas have evacuated.

4 Cincy Firefighters Hurt in Suburban Blaze

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fire Capt. Irwin J. Volk and three other firefighters were hurt and six others required emergency treatment for smoke inhalation Monday during a fire at a 2½-story brick residence in suburban Westwood. Volk suffered internal injuries when the roof of the structure gave way under him.

Lord Bertrand Russell, Nobel Prize philosopher, participated by videotape and short-wave radio from London. Milton E. Eisenhower, President of the John Hopkins University, was chairman. They discussed how man can meet the problems of coming generations.

Frost conceded that science offers the possibility of controlled evolution, but he predicted test tubes would never supplant what he termed "passionate preference."

A driver and two passengers were injured in a crash involving two cars on the Circleville-Stoutsville and Ringgold-Southern Roads four miles east of here at 5:45 p. m. yesterday.

Injured was Olive Lovett, 42, Stoutsville, driver of one of the cars. She was treated at Berger Hospital for lacerations of the forehead and left knee and possible skull injury.

Two passengers in her car, Wendell Lovett, 14, and Sharrell Lovett, 8, suffered lacerations and contusions.

Betty Lou Gentzel, 21, of 327½ Watt St., driver of the other auto, was not injured.

MRS. Lovett told Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff that she was traveling east on the Circleville-Stoutsville Road. She said she swerved right to avoid crashing into the Gentzel car which was pulling out of the East Ringgold - Southern Road.

Mrs. Lovett said her auto crashed into a utility pole. The other driver said she misjudged the distance of the other auto and pulled onto the highway.

Deputy Radcliff said the Gentzel woman was cited for failure to yield the right of way. The front end of the Lovett car was demolished, he said.

Ohio Bank Thug Nabbed In Texas

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ed D. Mason special agent in charge of the FBI here, announced today that Charles Forest Waugaman, 26, of Pittsburgh, wanted in the $38,800 holdup of the Community Savings Bank at Yorkville, Ohio, on Aug. 22, has been arrested at Beaumont, Tex.

Mason said FBI agents and Beaumont Police took Waugaman into custody at a motel and that he offered no resistance.

He said four pistols and a large sum of money, muddy and stuck together as if it had been in water, was found in Waugaman's car. Waugaman estimated the amount at between $7,000 and $8,000.

Two men, wearing Tyrolean hats, sun glasses and "beatnik" beards staged the holdup. The men fled in a stolen automobile which later was found in bushes along the Ohio River.

Mason said the holdup men made their escape across the river in a yellow life raft to which a motor had been attached.

On the West Virginia side, the men entered an automobile they previously had rented, Mason said.

Waugaman was ordered held under $50,000 bond pending removal to Steubenville.

No Jury Probe On Lobbies Due

Legislators To Study Tightening of Laws

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A special grand jury will not be called to continue a probe of lobbyist-legislator activities, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Monday. However, a study has been promised with an eye toward amending existing laws.

He could find no justification to ask that a special grand jury be impaneled, DiSalle said after a 90-minute conference with legislative leaders, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy and Franklin County Prosecutor Earl Allison.

The Franklin County grand jury recently indicted Robert Scott of Cambridge for failure to properly itemize lobbying expense accounts for the 1957-59 sessions of the Legislature.

Allison said he had hoped the state would step into the investigation.

DiSalle, however, refused to order McElroy to call a special grand jury because he said such action should be taken only if local officials refuse to act. He added:

"I certainly can't make that finding here. I'm not going to ask the attorney general to call a special grand jury unless there is more evidence forthcoming. The testimony he (Allison) has had before the grand jury would not support an indictment or successful prosecution for bribery."

House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield), chairman of the Legislative Service Commission, said he will ask that the commission start immediate research on Ohio's lobbying laws to determine weaknesses that can be remedied at the 1961 session of the Legislature.

Lantz said the discussion at the conference Monday showed some very definite weaknesses in present lobbying laws. He said the commission would not undertake a continuation of the investigation, adding:

"But it certainly is our prerogative to study weaknesses in the laws and determine how these weaknesses can be remedied. The inability to obtain indictments on the evidence points out weakness in the laws."

The Weather Bureau here predicted continued snow and rain during the day for most of Colorado and Wyoming.

Clearing weather is expected tonight.

Across the country, a band of cold air from the Great Lakes down to Texas barred movement early today of lower temperatures eastward from the Rockies.

West of this band of cold air the temperatures were in the 30s and 40s while east of it there adings were mostly in the 60s and 70s, the Weather Bureau reported.

Typhoon or Hurricane, What's Difference?

NEW YORK (AP)—What's the difference between a typhoon and a hurricane?

Nothing. They're just different names for the same thing—fierce cyclonic winds accompanied by rain.

The name typhoon is used in the Orient to denote the type of storm. Hurricane is the term which came to be applied to the same sort of tempest originating in the West Indies.

Heckert Succeeds DuPont's Ridlon

EMORY F. RIDLON

Dr. Richard E. Heckert, 376 Markley Road, has been appointed manager of the Du Pont Company's Circleville plant, the company announced today.

He succeeds Emory F. Ridlon who is being transferred to the company's headquarters in Wilmington, Del. Ridlon will assume the newly-created position of production manager for "Mylar" polyester film in Du Pont's Film Department. Both appointments are effective Thursday.

Dr. Heckert, who has been assistant plant manager since last May, joined Du Pont in 1949 as a research chemist in the chemical department at the experimental station in Wilmington.

He was transferred to the Film Department in 1954 as a technical supervisor in the cellophane technical section in Richmond, Va., and was promoted to assistant manager of the section in the following year. He became technical superintendent of the Spruance Cellophane Plant in Richmond in 1957 and of the Clinton, Ia., cellophane plant in 1958.

Dr. Heckert was born in Oxford, O., and attended Miami University and graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry in 1944. He received the degree of Master of Arts in 1947 and Doctor of Philosophy in Organic Chemistry in 1949 from the University of Illinois.

RIDLON, who was designated plant manager of the Circleville plant in January 1953, while the plant was still in the planning stage, joined Du Pont in 1929 as a student operator at the Buffalo, N. Y., rayon plant.

He held supervisory positions at Buffalo and at the Spruance Cellophane Plant at Richmond, Va., and in 1933 was assigned to the Chambers Works of the Organic Chemicals Department at Deepwater Point, N. J., where he worked as a chemist and operating supervisor in tetraethyl lead manufacture.

Ridlon was transferred to the Baton Rouge, La., tetraethyl lead plant in 1937 where he later became assistant plant manager. In 1946 he was named assistant manager of the Neoprene synthetic rubber plant at Louisville, Ky., which Du Pont had built and, at that time, was operating for the United States Government. He became

Ike Books Vacation In California

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, fighting a cold, plans to fly to the desert country of southern California Wednesday for an eight-day stay.

The chief executive will be the house guest of an old friend, Washington business executive George E. Allen, at La Quinta, Calif., 20 miles from Palm Springs.

Allen and Eisenhower are frequent golfing and bridge companions, sometimes share vacations, and own farms a couple of miles apart at Gettysburg, Pa.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the President hopes to get away late Wednesday afternoon, flying by jet to the Palm Springs airport.

125 Mph. Wind Hits Charleston

Mountainous Waves Battering Shoreline

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Hurricane Gracie smashed across the South Carolina shoreline today venting its full fury on this historic port city.

With the storm's center and its peak winds of 125 miles an hour reported slightly southwest of Charleston, high winds uprooted trees, tore down power and communication lines, and unroofed buildings. Historic structures were damaged.

Mountainous waves pounded beach installations from Savannah, Ga., to Myrtle Beach, S. C. High tides ranging up to 11 feet above normal sent waist-deep water coursing through streets here and in nearby communities. Highways and streets were blocked by flood water, fallen trees, tangled power lines and smashed buildings.

Metal signs sailed along almost deserted streets. Docks and smaller harbor installations disappeared.

An unidentified motorist was killed when his car overturned several times during the storm 10 miles west of Beaufort, S. C. There were no other immediate reports of deaths or serious injuries.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at noon said the storm was moving inland at about 14 miles an hour.

Hurricane force winds moved inland along with torrential rains and headed in the general direction of Charlotte, N.C.

The Weather Bureau warned that rains would range up to 10 and 15 inches and might cause serious flooding in some areas. Heavy rains were falling in eastern South Carolina and southeastern North Carolina and were expected to move northward.

Flooding during past hurricanes frequently has caused greater loss of life and damage than the powerful wind.

The Weather Bureau declared an emergency hurricane warning from Savannah to Wilmington, N. C., with gale warnings from Brunswick, Ga., to Morehead City, N. C.

Extremely high tides were forecast from Charleston to Wilmington ranging up to 11 feet above normal.

The Weather Bureau said hurricane winds continued to extend some 75 miles north of the hurricane eye and about 50 miles south of it. Gale winds of 40 miles an hour range outward as far as 200 miles.

With the urgent warnings of the Weather Bureau, Red Cross and other officials, most residents of exposed areas have evacuated.

4 Cincy Firefighters Hurt in Suburban Blaze

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fire Capt. Irwin J. Volk and three other firefighters were hurt and six others required emergency treatment for smoke inhalation Monday during a fire at a 2½-story brick residence in suburban Westwood. Volk suffered internal injuries when the roof of the structure gave way under him.

Leading Thinkers Ponder Problems of Next Generations

NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Julian Huxley, author and biologist, said today a world population policy is necessary to prevent erosion of the world's resources.

"Man soon will be driven to plan a cooperative project aimed at securing greater fulfillment for more human beings," Sir Julian said at a symposium. "For this, he will need a vast program of research on human possibilities and methods for realizing them more fully."

Other panelists included Robert Frost, Pulitzer Prize poet; Dr. Hermann J. Muller, Nobel Prize zoologist; Devereux Josephs, chairman of the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School; and Dr. Ashley Montagu, anthropologist and social scientist.

Lord Bertrand Russell, Nobel Prize philosopher, participated by videotape and short-wave radio from London. Milton E. Eisenhower, President of the John Hopkins University, was chairman. They discussed how man can meet the problems of coming generations.

Frost conceded that science offers the possibility of controlled evolution, but he predicted test tubes would never supplant what he termed "passionate preference."

"As far into the future as I can see with my eyes shut, people are still pairing for love and money," Frost said.

Lord Bertrand warned that the next war would either wipe out all of civilization or return man to primitive barbarism.

Dr. Montagu also saw man's survival hinged on eliminating war but urged it be done through world wide education.

Joseph, former chairman of the New York Life Insurance Co., listed the use of leisure time as one of several conflicts facing man from the rapid advance of science.

Typhoon Erases Farming Town

Japanese Death Toll Climbs Past 2,000

NAGASHIMA, Japan (AP) — This central Japanese town of 7,000 people was a prosperous farming community lying between two peaceful rivers running into the Pacific—until Saturday.

Now it is a hell hole. Bloated bodies—human and cattle—float in muddy, brown floodwaters that enveloped 95 per cent of Nagashima when Typhoon Vera turned the rivers into raging killers.

The stench of death is everywhere.

Nagashima is typical of many Japanese cities, towns and villages. The total of confirmed dead in the nation rose today to 2,002 with 2,015 missing. The typhoon was one of the worst natural disasters ever to hit the Japanese islands.

Nobody knows yet how many died in Nagashima. After four days, police and rescue workers are still unable to reach many isolated patches of ground.

On one patch of dry ground men, women and children huddled together, some weeping and moaning, some too shocked to whimper.

Some wore only underclothes. All were smeared with mud. They stood or knelt by bodies for which even straw covering was not available.

Most survivors in Nagashima haven't eaten in 3½ days.

Red Scientist Says Man To Conquer Space

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet scientist today predicted that space-probing earthlings eventually will meet up with beings from other worlds.

And together they would go on to conquer the cosmos.

"Soviet science already commands the means to send cosmic rockets to Mars and Venus," Moscow radio claimed.

In man's conquest of the cosmos Moscow radio reported, astronomer Feliks Segal believes the space travelers will first colonize the Moon.

Then they will conquer the rest of the planets. Finally they will venture forth into other solar systems.

In a broadcast beamed to North America, Moscow radio said plans ready being drafted in fact to turn the Moon into a habitable planet.

Basing its talk on Segal's predictions, the radio said men on the Moon will build hermetically sealed structures in which normal atmospheric pressures and temperatures will be maintained artificially.

In time, Moscow went on, if enough stations are built, they can generate an artificial atmosphere around the Moon. This will give rise to clouds, the first rains will fall, and rivers and seas will be created.

Massillon Gets Nod as Top Team of State

Alliance Rated Close Second to Outfit It Will Battle Friday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Thirty sports writers decided today that Massillon is No. 1 and Alliance No. 2 among the state's high school football teams.

Each drew six first place votes in the first Associated Press poll of the season, but the Tig- of Massillon outweighed the de- fending champion Aviators 239 to 194 in poll points on the 10-9-8 etc. vot- ing basis.

Regardless of what the scribes think, the two teams will battle it out for themselves Friday night at Tipton. And it could be a dilly, with the loser dropping out of contention.

A year ago they tied 8-8, the only blot on Alliance's record as the Aviators went on to take the title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy awarded annually to the winner of The Associated Press poll. Massillon lost its chance when it lost to Warren.

Joe Sparma, Massillon quar- terback, threw five times against Canton Lincoln Friday night and four of 'em went for touchdowns. Junior fullback Art Hastings went 84 yards for another score as the Tigers won 65-0.

Alliance has scored nine touch- downs and allowed none, and only one of the scores was made from inside the 30-yard line. Junior full- back Charles King has four, one on an 86-yard kickoff return. Al- though junior quarterback Bob Wallace has completed 15 of 27 passes for 230 yards and three touchdowns, the Aviators have found time to rush for 892 yards in two tilts.

With the poll leadership and pos- sibly the state championship hang- ing on the result, anything can happen as the hotshots clash.

From here and there:

Of the 10 top teams in 1958's final poll, five were right back in this time—Alliance, Marion Har- ding, Springfield, Massillon and Dayton Fairmont. Missing were Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Elyria, Toledo Devillias, Youngstown East and Toledo Libbey—their places taken by Warren Harding, Steuben- ville, Lorain, Troy and Parma.

Marion (No. 4) and Lorain (No. 7) clash this week, and Spring- field (No. 5) goes against Port- mouth's red-hot Trojans who have won a pair by a 76-20 margin. The latter could be something, too, for Portsmouth's Gib Bolton has scored five touchdowns and three two- point conversions while Spring- field's quarterback, Phil (Trigger) Westfall, has pitched for six touch- downs.

Alfred Jackson, Youngstown East's fleet-footed halfback, ran his two-game touchdown output to nine as he scored six times in the 48-0 romp over Youngstown Wood- row Wilson. Jackson had runs of 43, 71, 43 and 14 yards, and caught passes for 71 and 47-yard scores, his rushing gain being 213 yards in 11 carries. Jim Maughn of Youngs- town Ursuline scored five touch- downs as his team blanked Cleve- land Cathedral Latin 25-0 and Youngstown Chaney 34-0.

Steubenville's Big Red offers 200-pound fullback Tom Cunning- ham as its No. 1 boy. Big Tom scored four times in the 27-6 vic- tory over Weirton, W. Va., the latter's second loss in three years, giving him a two-game total of seven. Alongside Cunningham is probably the state's smallest var- sity halfback. He's 100-pound, 4- foot 9-inch Jim Patterson, who scored a touchdown in the open- ing game against Akron Hower.

Toronto, with a "seven dwarf" front line averaging 154 pounds, has beaten Carrollton 20-0 and Wellsville 28-0 for 23-year-old coach Earl Biederman, a Miami University product.

Parma whipped Rhodes 24-6 in Cleveland to run its victory string to 12. Alliance made it eight straight 30-0 over Cuyahoga Falls, and Springfield Catholic made it 19 without a loss in an easy win over Dayton Roth, a new school.

Salem halfback Fred Phillips has 44 points for two games after going for four touchdowns and a two-point conversion in the 4-0 win over Ravenna.

CHS Kittens Battle Logan Here Thursday

Circleville High School's reserve football team will entertain the young Chietains of Logan here at 4 p. m. Thursday.

The CHS Kittens, coached by John Current and Jim Lint, will be looking for their first win in two starts. Last week the reserv- ists dropped a close 20-14 deci- sion to Grove City.

The Kittens scored two late touchdowns against Grove City in a fine comeback, with Fullback Gary Cook logging the mail both times.

Coaches Current and Lint said their charges have displayed an improved brand of football since the season started. Opponent Grove City was loaded with veterans of junior high grid war, giving the visitors a definite advantage.

THE LOCAL reservists, faced with the same depth and ex- perience problem as their varsity counterparts, probably will rely on the running of Fullback Cook and Left Half Garold Dade. Both showed well against Grove City.

Grid activity for the Kittens this season will be based on a seven- game schedule. Here are the re- maining contests:
Oct. 1 — Logan Reserves (4 p. m.)
Oct. 5 — Chillicothe Freshmen (6 p. m.)

Iowa-Wildcat Game Saturday Could Tell '59 Big Ten Tale

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Iowa and Northwestern, two of the Big Ten's stronger teams who opened the season with convincing victories, clash Saturday at Iowa City.

Although only one conference game has been played so far, the Northwestern - Iowa game could go a long way in determining the eventual champion.

Northwestern, led by quar- terback Dick Thornton and halfback Ron Burton, crushed Oklahoma, the nation's No. 2 team, 45-13 last Saturday. Iowa, in a repeat per- formance of its Rose Bowl vic- tory, powdered California, 42-12.

Indiana opened the conference schedule with a 20-0 thumping of Illinois; Wisconsin slipped past Stanford, 16-14; Ohio State had to come from behind to edge Duke, 14-13.

Elsewhere, things did not go too well for Big Ten teams. Minne- sota was beaten by Nebraska, 32-12; Michigan dropped a last second 20-15 decision to Missouri and Texas A&M tripped Michigan State, 9-7.

LSU Retains No. 1 Rating But Other Top 10 Shaken Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Louisiana State's defending na- tional champions clung tightly to their No. 1 position but the rest of the top ten underwent a spirited shakeup today in the second week- ly Associated Press college foot- ball poll.

Northwestern wrested the run- ner-up spot from its Saturday vic- tim, Oklahoma, and Oklahoma dropped from sight. The Sooners, beaten 45-13, weren't listed among the first 20 teams—their lowest estate in years.

Meanwhile, Iowa, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Tennessee and Tex- as moved into the select group. Auburn, Southern Methodist, Wis- consin and Texas Christian—like Oklahoma—tumbled.

Mississippi, 16 - 0 victor over Kentucky, jumped a rung to the No. 3 position, followed by Army, 44-8 conqueror of Boston College, and Iowa, which crushed Calif- ornia 42-12.

Clemson, easy 47-0 winner over Virginia, dropped from fifth to sixth for no apparent reason and then came another Southern pow- er, Georgia Tech, 16-12 upsetter of Southern Methodist. Clemson and Tech meet Saturday.

Notre Dame which smashed North Carolina 28-8 under new coach Joe Kuharich, took eighth place. At No. 9 was Tennessee, which ended Auburn's prolonged unbeaten streak 3-0, and Texas, which rolled over Maryland 26-0.

LSU., 10-0 winner over Texas Christian, drew only 48 of the 86 first place votes from the coun- try's sports writers and broad- casters and amassed a total of 794 points—well below last week's 1,105.

The top ten, with total points based on 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. (first place votes in parenthesis):

1. Louisiana State (48) 794
2. Northwestern (20) 647
3. Mississippi (4) 443
4. Army 366
5. Iowa (4) 359
6. Clemson (7) 336
7. Georgia Tech 267
8. Notre Dame (1) 239
9. Tennessee 229
10. Texas 178

The Second 10:

11. Southern California (1) 176
12. Wisconsin 134
13. Georgia 85
14. Ohio State 81
15. Navy 64
16. South Carolina 63
17. Auburn 49
18. Air Force 39
19. Florida 36
20. Syracuse 21

meeting Saturday, two other con- ference games are scheduled. In- diana will be at Minnesota and Michigan State at Michigan.

Other games, Army is at Illinois, Notre Dame at Purdue, Marquette at Wisconsin. Ohio State plays at Southern California Friday night.

Iowa, the defending champion, went four points better than its 38-12 victory over California in the Rose Bowl last January. Olen Treadway and Wilburn Hollis did the quarterbacking with Bob Jeter, Don Horn, Ray Jauch and a string of other backs sharing the pass- grabbing and running honors.

Northwestern's victory was not altogether unexpected but the manner in which the Wildcats drubbed Oklahoma was a surprise. Sooner coach Bud Wilkinson said "I don't think there can be any alibi. We got beat soundly, that's all."

Wilkinson said the illness of four starters when they arrived in Evanston had no effect on their play. All were used.

Player of Week To Archie Ward

Archie Ward, stellar Circleville High School grid halfback who scored three touchdowns in the Rosary game here Friday, has been named "Player of the Week". Ward's selection was made last night by the CHS coaching staff. Their final decision was based on a careful study of films of the Rosary contest.

Coach Carl Benhase said Ward received a 2.74 grade. The maximum grade is four. Explaining his grading system, Coach Benhase said four means superior, three good, two fair, one poor and zero indicates no job done at all.

The coach said the hardrunning Ward did an exceptional job on running and played his defensive assignments like a veteran. He turned in a solid job on covering his territory against enemy running and passing.

BENHASE and his assistants said the entire team showed marked improvement over the Athens game as far as grades were concerned. He especially pointed out the better line play, on both offense and defense.

Although Ward ran like a rabbit in his scoring spree, Benhase said several other boys played hard enough to gain high grades. He named End Jake Bailey for doing an excellent job on his flanker post.

Others coming in for mention were Center Linden Gibson, Guards Harold Arledge and Dave Hicks, Tackles Dan Leonhardt and Dave Huffer, End Rich Warner and Fullback Larry Hannahs.

Ward fired the spark which gave the Tigers a 20-20 deadlock with the power-packed Rosary eleven by hitting paydirt on gallops of 39, 16 and 25 yards. Dave Smith's pass to Bailey accounted for the other two points.

Preparation this week will center on the South Central Ohio League opener at Wilmington Friday. The Hurricane dropped its first game of the season to Franklin, 20-8, but bounced back Friday to hand Lebanon a 14-6 defeat.

Local fans are reminded that films of the Rosary game will be shown tonight at the CHS auditorium. Starting time is set for 7:30.

Grid Player's Coma Enters 4th Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—"No matter what the doctors say, if God wills it, I will live for that day," said the words of Mrs. Pauline Kadis of suburban Seven Hills, and she was talking about her son, Richard, 24, who has been in a virtual coma since he was injured in a college football game three years ago Tuesday.

"We feel there is a slight improvement," Mrs. Kadis said. "Dick notices things more, and he is beginning to understand more when you tell him things."

On Sept. 29, 1956, Kadis was a 223-pound sophomore line for Geneva College of Beaver Falls, Pa. in a game at Waynesburg, Pa. He helped recover a fumble that made a 12-6 Geneva victory possible. Then in the bus after the game he collapsed.

Brain surgery was performed in St. Francis General Hospital at Pittsburgh. Months later, still in a coma, he was removed to a Cleveland hospital. Last Jan. 26, his parents were allowed to take him home.

Kadis now is able to sit up in a wheelchair for five or six hours at a time and to be outside when the weather is nice, his mother said.

CHS Kittens Battle Logan Here Thursday

Circleville High School's reserve football team will entertain the young Chieftains of Logan here at 4 p. m. Thursday.

The CHS Kittens, coached by John Current and Jim Lint, will be looking for their first win in two starts. Last week the reservists dropped a close 20-14 decision to Grove City.

The Kittens scored two late touchdowns against Grove City in a fine comeback, with Fullback Gary Cook logging the mail both times.

Coaches Current and Lint said their charges have displayed an improved brand of football since the season started. Opponent Grove City was loaded with veterans of junior high grid war, giving the visitors a definite advantage.

THE LOCAL reservists, faced with the same depth and experience problem as their varsity counterparts, probably will rely on the running of Fullback Cook and Left Half Harold Dade. Both showed well against Grove City.

Grid activity for the Kittens this season will be based on a seven-game schedule. Here are the remaining contests:

- Oct. 1 — Logan Reserves (4 p. m.)
- Oct. 5 — Chillicothe Freshmen (6 p. m.)
- Oct. 12 — Amanda Reserve (6 p. m.)
- Oct. 22 — Logan Freshmen (4 p. m. away)
- Oct. 26 — Chillicothe Freshmen (4 p. m. away)
- Nov. 9 — Amanda Reserves (6 p. m.)

First National Champs Set for Banquet Here

Manager David (Red) Crawford's First National Bank baseball team, champions of the Little League Minors this season, will be honored at a banquet tomorrow.

The First National Bank sponsors of the team, will present the banquet. It will be held at the Pickaway Arms Restaurant on E. Mound St.

Crawford said the banquet is set for 6:30 p. m., but he asked his players to be on hand by 6:15. He also requested the basebalers to bring their uniforms to be turned in.

Ed Dudley, who gave President Eisenhower golf lessons at Augusta, has been the summer pro at Broadmoor in Colorado Springs since 1940.

LSU Retains No. 1 Rating But Other Top 10 Shaken Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisiana State's defending national champions clung tightly to their No. 1 position but the rest of the top ten underwent a spirited shakeup today in the second weekly Associated Press college football poll.

Northwestern wrestled the runner-up spot from its Saturday victim, Oklahoma, and Oklahoma dropped from sight. The Sooners, beaten 45-13, weren't listed among the first 20 teams—their lowest estate in years.

Meanwhile, Iowa, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Tennessee and Texas moved into the select group. Auburn, Southern Methodist, Wisconsin and Texas Christian—like Oklahoma—tumbled.

Mississippi, 16-0 victor over Kentucky, jumped a rung to the No. 3 position, followed by Army, 44-8 conqueror of Boston College, and Iowa, which crushed California 42-12.

Clemson, easy 47-0 winner over Virginia, dropped from fifth to sixth for no apparent reason and then came another Southern power, Georgia Tech, 16-12 upsetter of Southern Methodist. Clemson and Tech meet Saturday.

Notre Dame which smashed North Carolina 28-8 under new coach Joe Kuharich, took eighth place. At No. 9 was Tennessee, which ended Auburn's prolonged unbeaten streak 3-0, and Texas, which rolled over Maryland 26-0.

L.S.U., 10-0 winner over Texas Christian, drew only 48 of the 86 first place votes from the country's sports writers and broadcasters and amassed a total of 794 points—well below last week's 1,105.

The top ten, with total points based on 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. (first place votes in parenthesis):

Iowa-Wildcat Game Saturday Could Tell '59 Big Ten Tale

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Iowa and Northwestern, two of the Big Ten's stronger teams who opened the season with convincing victories, clash Saturday at Iowa City.

Although only one conference game has been played so far, the Northwestern-Iowa game could go a long way in determining the eventual champion.

Northwestern, led by quarterback Dick Thornton and halfback Ron Burton, crushed Oklahoma, the nation's No. 2 team, 45-13 last Saturday. Iowa, in a repeat performance of its Rose Bowl victory, powdered California, 42-12.

Indiana opened the conference schedule with a 20-0 thumping of Illinois; Wisconsin slipped past Stanford, 16-14; Ohio State had to come from behind to edge Duke, 14-13.

Elsewhere, things did not go too well for Big Ten teams. Minnesota was beaten by Nebraska, 32-12; Michigan dropped a last second 20-15 decision to Missouri and Texas A&M tripped Michigan State, 9-7.

Besides the Northwestern-Iowa

meeting Saturday, two other conference games are scheduled. Indiana will be at Minnesota and Michigan State at Michigan. In other games, Army is at Illinois, Notre Dame at Purdue, Marquette at Wisconsin. Ohio State plays at Southern California Friday night.

Iowa, the defending champion, went four points better than its 38-12 victory over California in the Rose Bowl last January. Olen Treadway and Wilburn Hollis did the quarterbacking with Bob Jeter, Don Horn, Ray Jauch and a string of other backs sharing the pass-grabbing and running honors.

Northwestern's victory was not altogether unexpected but the manner in which the Wildcats drubbed Oklahoma was a surprise. Sooner coach Bud Wilkinson said "I don't think there can be any alibi. We got beat soundly, that's all."

Wilkinson said the illness of four starters when they arrived in Evanston had no effect on their play. All were used.

Question Raised: Where's Censor?

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of four articles on morality in American-made movies.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Where were the censors when that picture got passed?"

You hear that question more and more these days from amazed movie goers, accustomed to decades of almost simon-pure entertainment on the screen.

The watchdogs of movie morality are still on the job. But films are undergoing a moral revolution due to these factors:

1. Loss of the movie habit. Millions of Americans used to go to the movies regularly with scant regard to what was showing. TV ended that. Movie goers are shoppers now. They are attracted by what is talked about. So producers are trying to provide what is new and often sensational.

2. Source of film material. Most film stories now come from books and plays. You need only to consult recent best sellers—"Lolita," "By Love Possessed," "Lady Chatterley's Lover," "Peyton Place"—to note the erotic nature of popular literature. And Broadway's top playwright, Tennessee Williams, has led the stage into new byways of sexual motivations.

Local Legion Heads Attend Leader School

Rodger Smith, commander of the local Hall-Adkins American Legion Post, and Vice Commander Carl Radcliff Jr. attended an American Legion Leadership College held Saturday and Sunday at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Youth Center.

A highlight of the college was an address by Martin B. McKnealy, national commander of the American Legion.

Smith and Radcliff participated in classes on public relations, community service, child welfare, Americanism, veterans employment, legislation, junior baseball, Boys Buckeye State and rehabilitation of veterans.

Commander McKnealy said the American Legion's leadership goal is two-fold, with both internal and external tasks at hand.

HE SAID the Legion needs leadership that applies itself within the ranks to the task of organizing, administering and doing the many service jobs for which the American Legion was organized.

The commander noted that external leadership is needed to communicate and dramatize to the country both the material and spiritual works of the American Legion.

60-Day Jail Sentence Given in Dope Case

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — George E. Bauldick of Columbus, pleading guilty Monday to a charge of illegally possessing narcotics, was given a 60-day jail sentence and placed on a two-year probation by Licking County Common Pleas Court Judge Charles B. Holtsberry. Prosecutor Forrest Ashcraft recommended the jail sentence to demonstrate to others that the county will not tolerate any traffic in illegal drugs.

Navy Unveils Its New $400 3-Threat Rocket

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new triple-threat weapon that costs only $400-the Zuni rocket-has been unveiled by the Navy.

The Zuni carries a secret warhead second only to an atomic blast in destructive power, its designers told a news conference Sunday.

It is 110 inches long, 5 inches in diameter and weighs 107 pounds. It is non-nuclear, unguided and designed for air-to-air and air-to-ground attack.

William Otis invented the steam shovel in 1839.

3. Product shortage. Because the major studios are not making enough movies, theaters must rely also on foreign and cheap American products. An unclad Brigitte Bardot showed foreign producers the surest way to the U.S. dollar. Overseas films need not meet production code requirements. The same is true of quick-buck Hollywood producers who make and release teen-age and horror films, most of them sleazy.

Churchmen have been alarmed at this revolution in film morality. Roman Catholics long have been a potent force in affecting moral content in movies.

Francis Cardinal Spellman urged in a speech last month that "pictures and books which corrupt and destroy the moral fibre and ideals of youth... be eliminated if we are to discharge our sacred duties to our children."

But what alarms Hollywood most is that Protestants, too, are up in arms.

Recently George Heimrich, West Coast director of a film and broadcasting commission of the National Council of Churches, issued a blast against movies that exploited "sex for sex's sake and violence for violence's sake." He hinted at strong action by Protestants.

Lutheran H. K. Rasbach was a member of the Hollywood Ministerial Assn. that voted unanimously to support Heimrich. Rev. Rasbach's view:

"I don't think we should get back to the puritanical approach to movies of the '30s. That took all the realism out of films. But I do think our producers should be more careful about morality in view of our perilous position today."

"We must think how movies picture us abroad. Recently a minister in Italy wrote me that someone asked him, 'are most Americans promiscuous?' That was the impression he got from our films..."

Ad blurbs for movies demonstrate the current appeal of the Hollywood product:

"It's what goes on when the lights go off"—"Pillow Talk."

"Do you want to know what I do? I am kept by a very rich man"—"That Kind of Woman."

"Silver, who wanted a thrill a night... every night"—"Girls Town..."

MR. K. AID? — A newspaper under his arm, Arnold Johnson of New York, legislative director of the Communist party in the U. S., leaves the House un-American activities hearing in Washington, where he refused to say whether he had supplied derogatory information about American cities for use by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev on his tour.

Wayne Plans 1961 Balance

Wayne Twp. trustees expect a $5,266.96 general fund balance for 1961 according to the 1960 budget filed with the Pickaway County Auditor's office.

Estimated 1960 receipts were $7,741.96 and expenditures were listed at $2,475. The 1960 budget varies little with the 1959 budget.

For 1960 estimated receipts are: balance, $5,241.96; general property taxes, $2,000, and sales taxes, $500.

Expenditures set for 1960 were: trustees' salaries, $1,460; trustees' expenses, $350; lighting personal service, $35; fire protection expenses, $400; supplies, $300, and convention expense, $30.

ROAD AND bridge fund receipts were listed at $4,491.77 and expenditures were set at $2,920 for a $1,571.77 balance.

Motor vehicle license tax fund receipts were set at $8,879.36 and expenses, $8,879.36 for no 1961 balance.

Gasoline tax fund receipts were estimated at $10,617.29 and expenditures were set at $6,530 for a $4,087.29 balance.

12 Area Taxpayers Eligible For Returns on Proper ID

Several persons living in this area probably will be delighted to know that they can receive 1958 Federal income tax returns by making proper identification of themselves.

According to the Columbus District Internal Revenue Service, there are 12 area income tax filers who have not received their return checks due to inadequate current addresses. Tax officials said the local names are included in a group of almost 1,000 persons facing the same situation.

Area names and addresses as compiled by the IRS are: William F. Boltenhouse, E. Union St., Circleville; S. W. Davis, 228 Town St., Circleville; Glenn D. Kuhn, 139 E. Logan St., Circleville; John Raypole, Route 2, Circleville; Maxine Van Gundy, Route 2, Circleville; William L. Walker, Route 2, Circleville; C. C. & A. Davis, Route 2, Ashville; Doyle Manbeavers Sr., Ashville; E. & V. M. Smith, Route 1, Ashville; O. W. & P. K. Taylor, Route 1, Ashville; Minnie Underwood, Derby; and Walter A. Eremment, C-O Asher, New Holland.

THESE names are being published as a public service in an attempt to notify the affected taxpayers who are perhaps wondering where their returns are.

Persons whose names appear here are advised to get in touch with the Internal Revenue Service immediately. However, persons may not claim a check by telephone officials said. The IRS needs signatures before checks will be released.

As a guide for eligible check receivers, the Revenue office prepared the following statement: "It is not necessary for you to consult or engage the services of a 'locating' or 'searching' service or anyone else to obtain information about your check. All you need to do is to contact the District Director of Internal Revenue, 110 W. Long St., Columbus 15, Ohio and establish your identity and right to receive the check. Social security cards alone will not establish identity."

Teays Valley Bond Meeting Set Thursday

An important meeting is to be held in the Ashville High School Auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday concerning the bond issue which will appear on the November ballot. The issue will finance the new consolidated high school building for the Teays Valley School District.

A proposed site at the corner of Route 756 and Circleville - Lockbourne East Road, is under option.

Earl Gregg, superintendent of the Teays Valley School District, will present the issue. A panel will be made up of teachers and board members to answer questions. All interested persons are urged to come prepared with any questions that they want answered.

The meeting is sponsored by the Ashville Women's Civic Club with the help of the Ashville Parent Teachers Association. Special music will be furnished by the music department of the Ashville - Harrison Schools, under the direction of Everett Mehrlay.

Tass Links Tensions To Red China Dispute

LONDON (AP) — The official Soviet news agency Tass asserted today international tension will continue until the West recognizes that Red China must take part in any cold war settlement. The statement was made in a Tass commentary marking the 10th anniversary Oct. 1 of the Communist take over in China.

Clyde Derexson Attends World Softball Tourney

Clyde Derexson, District No. 8 Softball Commissioner who lives on E. Union St., attended the World Softball Title Tournament at Clearwater, Fla.

Derexson was on hand Saturday to watch the Aurora, Ill. Sealmasters down the Clearwater, Fla. Bombers in a 1-0 test which went 10 innings.

Derexson said the Aurora team bounced back from the losers' bracket to take the title. The Clearwater team, always rugged competitors, has won the world championship four times.

Derexson, a hardworking softball backer here, also attended the State Softball tournament at Clyde, O. this year.

SOMEBODY STOLE THE LAWN — When Norman Blackwell, Detroit Edison substation operator, got to work he found the lawn like this, with some 200 square feet of sod neatly removed. That's his grandson Jeff Hostetter, 4, assaying the damage. Culprits also took "Keep Off the Grass" sign.

Local Legion Heads Attend Leader School

Rodger Smith, commander of the local Hall-Adkins American Legion Post, and Vice Commander Carl Radcliff Jr. attended an American Legion Leadership College held Saturday and Sunday at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Youth Center.

A highlight of the college was an address by Martin B. McKneally, national commander of the American Legion.

Smith and Radcliff participated in classes on public relations, community service, child welfare, Americanism, veterans employment, legislation, junior baseball, Boys Buckeye State and rehabilitation of veterans.

Commander McKneally said the American Legion's leadership goal is two-fold, with both internal and external tasks at hand.

HE SAID the Legion needs leadership that applies itself within the ranks to the task of organizing, administering and doing the many service jobs for which the American Legion was ordained.

The commander noted that external leadership is needed to communicate and dramatize to the country both the material and spiritual works of the American Legion.

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — George E. Bauldick of Columbus, pleading guilty Monday to a charge of illegally possessing narcotics, was given a 60-day jail sentence and placed on a two-year probation by Licking County Common Pleas Court Judge Charles B. Holtsberry. Prosecutor Forrest Ashcraft recommended the jail sentence to demonstrate to others that the county will not tolerate any traffic in illegal drugs.

Navy Unveils Its New $400 3-Threat Rocket

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new triple-threat weapon that costs only $400-the Zuni rocket-has been unveiled by the Navy.

The Zuni carries a secret war-head second only to an atomic blast in destructive power, its designers told a news conference Sunday.

It is 110 inches long, 5 inches in diameter and weighs 107 pounds. It is non-nuclear, unguided and designed for air-to-air and air-to-ground attack.

William Otis invented the steam shovel in 1839.

3. Product shortage. Because the major studios are not making enough movies, theaters must rely also on foreign and cheap American products. An unclad Brigitte Bardot showed foreign producers the surest way to the U.S. dollar. Overseas films need not meet production code requirements. The same is true of quick-buck Hollywood producers who make and release teen-age and horror films, most of them sleazy.

Churchmen have been alarmed at this revolution in film morality. Roman Catholics long have been a potent force in affecting moral content in movies.

Francis Cardinal Spellman urged in a speech last month that "pictures and books which corrupt and destroy the moral fibre and ideals of youth... be eliminated if we are to discharge our sacred duties to our children."

But what alarms Hollywood most is that Protestants, too, are up in arms.

Recently George Heimrich, West Coast director of a film and broadcasting commission of the National Council of Churches, issued a blast against movies that exploited "sex for sex's sake and violence for violence's sake." He hinted at strong action by Protestants.

Lutheran H. K. Rasbach was a member of the Hollywood Ministerial Assn. that voted unanimously to support Heimrich. Rev. Rasbach's view:

"I don't think we should get back to the puritanical approach to movies of the '30s. That took all the realism out of films. But I do think our producers should be more careful about morality in view of our perilous position today."

"We must think how movies picture us abroad. Recently a minister in Italy wrote me that someone asked him, 'are most Americans promiscuous?' That was the impression he got from our films..."

Ad blurbs for movies demonstrate the current appeal of the Hollywood product:

"It's what goes on when the lights go off!"—"Pillow Talk."

"Do you want to know what I do? I am kept by a very rich man!"—"That Kind of Woman."

"Silver, who wanted a thrill a night... every night!"—"Girls Town."

MR. K. AID? — A newspaper under his arm, Arnold Johnson of New York, legislative director of the Communist party in the U. S., leaves the House un-American activities hearing in Washington, where he refused to say whether he had supplied derogatory information about American cities for use by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev on his tour.

Clyde Derexson Attends World Softball Tourney

Clyde Derexson, District No. 8 Softball Commissioner who lives on E. Union St., attended the World Softball Title Tournament at Clearwater, Fla.

Derexson was on hand Saturday to watch the Aurora, Ill. Sealmasters down the Clearwater, Fla. Bombers in a 1-0 test which went 10 innings.

Derexson said the Aurora team bounced back from the losers' bracket to take the title. The Clearwater team, always rugged competitors, has won the world championship four times.

Derexson, a hardworking softball backer here, also attended the State Softball tournament at Clyde, O. this year.

Which Way to Progress?

Progress-minded citizens today are striving for approval of a Master Plan for Circleville.

Meanwhile, some officials have hampered their efforts.

Acceptance of a plan for Circleville is a must. The city has to have a map for future development or else a chaotic situation will keep "Our Town" standing still, not progressing with the times.

A case in point is the situation of allowing unapproved subdivisions to develop. It hurts the city . . . and it's also against the law.

The City Planning and Zoning Commission has the task of approving new developments and recommending acceptance to Council, when beneficial to the city.

The commission has done its job here on a piecemeal basis. Some subdivisions have been approved. Others, such as discovered last week, have just grown, like Topsy.

In some instances the city has been very diligent in protecting the citizens, such as the suit to keep a contractor from building seven feet too close to a street.

Actually, ignoring the transfer of 18 lots in an unapproved subdivision is far more serious than a setback violation. It could cost local citizens a young fortune. The setback violation will be detrimental to the aesthetic appearance of an area, but it is not expensive.

Who is responsible?

It is a two-way deal. The City Planning and Zoning Commission and county auditor are in some measure responsible.

Members of the P & Z Commission knew of the transfers but ignored the situation. The county auditor was unaware of the law, but that, in the words of the old phrase, "is no excuse".

They have graciously accepted their responsibility and have admitted their error. Now, we wonder if it will happen again.

"At your age George Washington was already fighting Indians."

"Stand up straight, Rodney. Do you want to look like a man or a pretzel?"

"But Susie, you can't be steady with him. He's too old for you. Why, he's in his last year in high school."

"I never had to ask my folks for money. I went out and earned it myself."

"No, you can't have the car tonight—or any other night for that matter."

"If you play just one more rock 'n' roll tune, I'll break every record in the house."

"Where's this place called Endsville you children are always talking about?"

"In my day they didn't do

"Sit down, Rodney. I think it's time you and your dad had a real man-to-man talk about this whole girl question."

"Sure you can go to the movies—after you cut the grass and do all the other things I told you to do this morning."

"Why can't kids today talk in ordinary English? It was a good enough language for Shakespeare."

"It isn't that you don't look cute in blue jeans, Susie, but there is any law that says a girl can't wear a dress, too, now and then?"

"Does Susie really call that a haircut? It looks as if it had been gnawed by mice."

"Is that Susie's new boy friend in the living room? What's he doing, getting ready to enter a Halloween contest?"

"No wonder they've got pimples. All they eat is cheeseburgers and malted milks."

"You'll find it easier to read, Susie, if you sit up in the chair and put your head where your feet are now."

"No, you don't have to walk those three long blocks to the drug store. You can run or you can crawl."

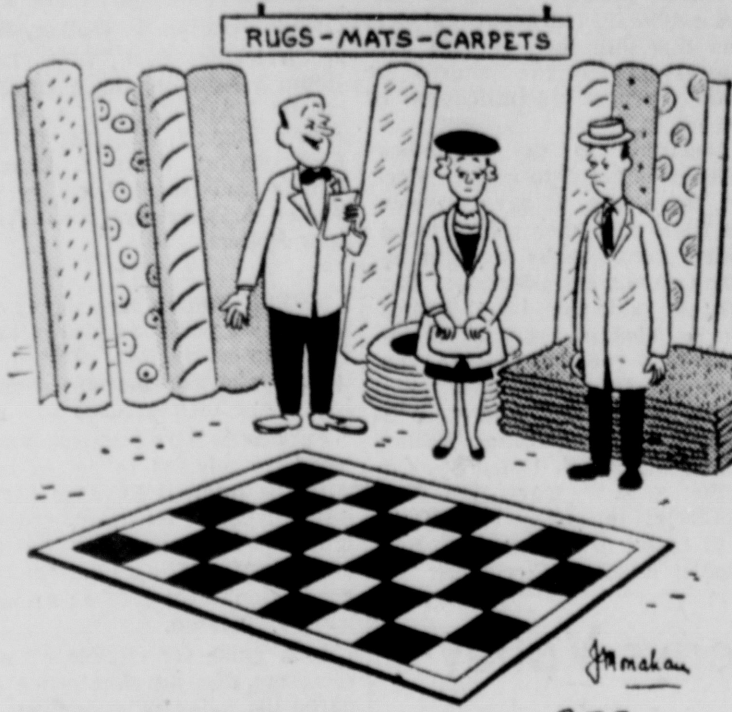

"Well, I never thought I'd have a teen-age daughter who'd have to ask her mother to thread the needle when she had to sew on a button."

"Borrow my razor? Son, you sure you know which end to hold?"

"Look at that report card. You ought to have to go to the school of hard knocks, like I did."

"Certainly I could help you with your algebra. But right now I'm too busy."

Beware of Cancer Disease

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

A large number of baby boys born in hospitals throughout the United States are circumcised within a few days of birth. However, I would like to see the practice even more widespread than it is.

Babies born at home and in smaller hospitals are entitled to this protection just as much as are infants born elsewhere.

Few of you probably have ever thought of circumcision as protection against cancer, but apparently it is.

Interest in this practice as a method of preventing penile cancer was stimulated by the knowledge that few Jewish men developed this particular type of the disease. And Jews, of course, regard circumcision as part of a religious rite.

Further study indicates that Jewish persons have no ethical immunity since they are just as apt to develop skin cancer in other body areas as is anyone else. It seems logical therefore, that circumcision does help to prevent this one specific type of cancer.

Other studies support this contention.

Most young boys born in American hospitals are circumcised within a few days after birth. The rite is performed on Jewish males within eight days after they are born.

It's probably advisable not to wait any longer than this to have the matter taken care of.

After the age of six, you see, this technique does not have the same prophylactic effect that earlier circumcision does.

Mohammedans, for example, also perform ritual circumcision, but usually at a much later date. Generally the rite is performed when the boy is between six and 14 years of age.

This particular type of cancer, according to studies, occurs more often among Mohammedans than Jews. This also tends to support the belief that early circumcision is advisable.

Cancer of this type is not prevalent in the United States. It ranges from one to five per cent of all cancers in males.

But even this small percentage is too great when apparently it is so easy to prevent it entirely.

Question and Answer

B. G. H.: I have been taking Bicillin tablets daily for bronchitis and have been told that this treatment must continue indefinitely.

Can dangerous effects result from consuming so much of this drug?

Answer: The continued use of Bicillin should be supervised by your private physician, because not only could reactions occur but certain organisms might become resistant to penicillin and the drug fail to be effective.

4000 Year Old 'Motel' Found In Wasteland

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Nelson Glueck of Cincinnati, who spends his summers exploring Israel's Negev desert wasteland, says he has found what appear to be the "motel" of 4,000 years ago.

Dr. Glueck, president of Hebrew College-Jewish Institute of Religion here, said he has tracked down old camp sites on what may have been a major east-west trade route across the Negev.

He contends, after making archaeological studies in recent years, that the Negev once flourished with cities, farms, forests and a busy civilized life.

He said the camp sites were probably built by businessmen of the time and operated somewhat like modern motels, charging rent to passing caravans.

Some archaeologists suggest the route was important only in the 16th and 17th centuries. It winds 55 miles into present day Jordan and joins the ancient King's Highway, believed to be the route used by the Biblical Israelites in their flight out of Egypt.

Dr. Glueck said one camp site, covering about 12 acres, had house foundations with courtyards for livestock that traveled with caravans. The sites had what appeared to be terrace walls to capture rain.

He said, "hundreds of people camped here at one time. From pottery fragments we found in the area, we can date the site back to the period of Abraham, some 4,000 years ago. Apparently the site was reoccupied 3,000 years ago."

The District of Columbia was taken from the territories of Maryland and Virginia.

Khrush Displayed Bad Manners

By George Sokolsky

The king, of course, could do no wrong, but, in due course, most kings were toppled and their places were taken by presidents, premiers, chairmen, dictators and all sorts of persons who rule neither by divine right, heredity, primogeniture or anything but by an election or a seizure of power.

Whereas kings were supposed to be anointed, the new rulers come from anywhere and have nowhere to go after they are kicked out.

For instance, Batista was a mighty big shot in Cuba until a Humanismo Revolution sent him into exile in the Dominican Republic where he was all but forgotten. It is said that he is now in Portugal.

Peron was one of the very big dictators whose name appeared in the newspapers every day. Peron is still alive, it is said, a forgotten man.

Malenkov succeeded Stalin, as few remember. Now, he is somewhere in exile and is never mentioned. Stalin, the greatest of all dictators, left a son when he died, but the son succeeded neither to the father's power nor his wealth.

It was better to be a king in the 19th century than a dictator in the 20th. The job lasted longer; the perquisites were greater; and the public attitude more mannerly.

Khrushchev who has the manners of an East European peasant dressed up for Sunday, objects to the bad manners of those who heckle him. I watched and listened to the reception of Khrushchev by the Mayor of Los Angeles, Norris Poulson. I thought that the mayor behaved genteelly.

He said to Khrushchev: You will not bury us and we will not bury you. What could be nicer? Khrushchev lost his temper, said that even mayors can read newspapers and that if they did not (that is, in his country where there are no mayors), they would not be re-elected.

Then, in San Francisco, Khrushchev tore up his program and went to see Harry Bridges. That, indeed, was bringing coals to Newcastle. Khrushchev probably felt more at home with Harry Bridges.

Khrushchev, it looks, is campaigning to make Richard Nixon the Republican candidate for president, and Henry Cabot Lodge, the candidate for vice president. He complains so much about these two that they must be working overtime for the U.S.A.

Apparently Khrushchev does not like those who answer back. Having attained a position equivalent to that of the czar, he expects to be treated royally, which, in its proper meaning, is a recognition of his prerogatives.

Spyros Skouras, the motion picture magnate, is a literate man in the way of the Greeks, with whom I have discussed abstract questions of philosophy and religion, over goats' cheese on matzos. He gave Nikita Khrushchev a hard time.

Khrushchev can boast that he was a miner who, under Soviet socialism, worked his way up to rule a great country. But Skouras can boast that from an immigrant who sold bananas and peanuts, he and his brothers worked their way up, under American capitalism, to be heads of large corporations. He did so argue and Khrushchev thought that it was impolite for Skouras to argue with him.

In fact, Khrushchev got even with Skouras. The latter used the visit to do a bit of advertising for a forthcoming picture. On television, Khrushchev was shown mingling with the prettiest movie stars and watching the can-can, a dance in the tradition of France. The next day, Khrushchev pronounced the can-can immoral.

Khrushchev is undoubtedly a puritan, as most successful Russians are. Their morality is definitely Calvinistic. They have no side roads, no deviations to the right or to the left. Second generation Communists like Khrushchev or Kozlov, are bound to be rigid in their attitude toward sex. They have no wish to be mistaken for hooligans.

It is in the third and fourth generations that trouble usually starts. Then the demand for consumers' goods becomes pressing. Only war or a rising standard of living can save a government under such circumstances. This Khrushchev understands.

Stalin had another alternative, apparently unavailable at the present time: Stalin could and did murder his opposition.

Khrushchev is discovering what a high standard of living really means. No matter what front of dissatisfaction with his visit he erects, he still sees what a high standard of living is in food, dress, and housing. He therefore recognizes what consumer pressure can in time become in his own country.

A large number of baby boys born in hospitals throughout the United States are circumcised within a few days of birth. However, I would like to see the practice even more widespread than it is.

Babies born at home and in smaller hospitals are entitled to this protection just as much as are infants born elsewhere.

Few of you probably have ever thought of circumcision as protection against cancer, but apparently it is.

Interest in this practice as a method of preventing penile cancer was stimulated by the knowledge that few Jewish men developed this particular type of the disease. And Jews, of course, regard circumcision as part of a religious rite.

Further study indicates that Jewish persons have no ethical immunity since they are just as apt to develop skin cancer in other body areas as is anyone else. It seems logical, therefore, that circumcision does help to prevent this one specific type of cancer.

Other studies support this contention. Most young boys born in American hospitals are circumcised within a few days after birth. The rite is performed on Jewish males within eight days after they are born.

It's probably advisable not to wait any longer than this to have the matter taken care of.

After the age of six, you see, this technique does not have the same prophylactic effect that earlier circumcision does.

Mohammedans, for example, also perform ritual circumcision, but usually at a much later date. Generally the rite is performed when the boy is between six and 14 years of age.

This particular type of cancer, according to studies, occurs more often among Mohammedans than Jews. This also tends to support the belief that early circumcision is advisable.

Cancer of this type is not prevalent in the United States. It ranges from one to five per cent of all cancers in males.

But even this small percentage is too great when apparently it is so easy to prevent it entirely.

Question and Answer

B. G. H.: I have been taking Bicillin tablets daily for bronchitis and have been told that this treatment must continue indefinitely.

Can dangerous effects result from consuming so much of this drug?

Answer: The continued use of Bicillin should be supervised by your private physician, because not only could reactions occur but certain organisms might become resistant to penicillin and the drug fail to be effective.

4000 Year Old 'Motel' Found In Wasteland

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Nelson Glueck of Cincinnati, who spends his summers exploring Israel's Negev desert wasteland, says he has found what appear to be the "motel" of 4,000 years ago.

Dr. Glueck, president of Hebrew College-Jewish Institute of Religion here, said he has tracked down old camp sites on what may have been a major east-west trade route across the Negev. He contends, after making archaeological studies in recent years, that the Negev once flourished with cities, farms, forests and a busy civilized life.

He said the camp sites were probably built by businessmen of the time and operated somewhat like modern motels, charging rent to passing caravans. Some archaeologists suggest the route was important only in the 16th and 17th centuries. It winds 55 miles into present day Jordan and joins the ancient King's Highway, believed to be the route used by the Biblical Israelites in their flight out of Egypt.

Dr. Glueck said one camp site, covering about 12 acres, had house foundations with courtyards for livestock that traveled with caravans. The sites had what appeared to be terrace walls to capture rain. He said, "hundreds of people camped here at one time. From pottery fragments we found in the area, we can date the site back to the period of Abraham, some 4,000 years ago. Apparently the site was reoccupied 3,000 years ago."

The District of Columbia was taken from the territories of Maryland and Virginia.

Nowadays physicians have the power to perform seeming miracles. They prescribe medicines that can be depended upon to accomplish a definite result. This ability to cure has been gained by years of studying to learn the knowledge required to properly diagnose and treat sickness.

Yet, some door-to-door peddlers often presume to tell people the food supplements they sell will cure. Without medical knowledge such advice is worthless and even harmful. Don't be misled. Depend on your physician's advice and the really potent vitamins and medicines he will prescribe.

Khrush Displayed Bad Manners

The king, of course, could do no wrong, but, in due course, most kings were toppled and their places were taken by presidents, premiers, chairmen, dictators and all sorts of persons who rule neither by divine right, heredity, primogeniture or anything but by an election or a seizure of power.

Whereas kings were supposed to be anointed, the new rulers come from anywhere and have nowhere to go after they are kicked out.

For instance, Batista was a mighty big shot in Cuba until a Humanism Revolution sent him into exile in the Dominican Republic where he was all but forgotten. It is said that he is now in Portugal.

Peron was one of the very big dictators whose name appeared in the newspapers every day. Peron is still alive, it is said, a forgotten man.

Malenkov succeeded Stalin, as few remember. Now, he is somewhere in exile and is never mentioned. Stalin, the greatest of all dictators, left a son when he died, but the son succeeded neither to the father's power nor his wealth.

It was better to be a king in the 19th century than a dictator in the 20th. The job lasted longer; the perquisites were greater; and the public attitude more lenient.

Khrushchev who has the manners of an East European peasant dressed up for Sunday, objects to the bad manners of those who heckle him. I watched and listened to the reception of Khrushchev by the Mayor of Los Angeles, Norris Poulson. I thought that the mayor behaved genteelly.

He said to Khrushchev: You will not bury us and we will not bury you. What could be nicer? Khrushchev lost his temper, said that even mayors can read newspapers and that if they did not (that is, in his country where there are no mayors), they would not be re-elected.

Then, in San Francisco, Khrushchev tore up his program and went to see Harry Bridges. That, indeed, was bringing coals to Newcastle. Khrushchev probably felt more at home with Harry Bridges.

Khrushchev, it looks, is campaigning to make Richard Nixon the Republican candidate for president, and Henry Cabot Lodge, the candidate for vice president. He complains so much about these two that they must be working overtime for the U.S.A.

Apparently Khrushchev does not like those who answer back. Having attained a position equivalent to that of the czar, he expects to be treated royally, which, in its proper meaning, is a recognition of his prerogatives.

Spyros Skouras, the motion picture magnate, is a literate man in the way of the Greeks, with whom I have discussed abstract questions of philosophy and religion, over goats' cheese on matzos. He gave Nikita Khrushchev a hard time. Khrushchev can boast that he was a miner who, under Soviet socialism, worked his way up to rule a great country. But Skouras can boast that from an immigrant who sold bananas and peanuts, he and his brothers worked their way up, under American capitalism, to be heads of large corporations. He did so argue and Khrushchev thought that it was impolite for Skouras to argue with him.

In fact, Khrushchev got even with Skouras. The latter used the visit to do a bit of advertising for a forthcoming picture. On television, Khrushchev was shown mingling with the prettiest movie stars and watching the can-can, a dance in the tradition of France. The next day, Khrushchev pronounced the can-can immoral.

Khrushchev is undoubtedly a puritan, as most successful Russians are. Their morality is definitely Calvinistic. They have no side roads, no deviations to the right or to the left. Second generation Communists like Khrushchev or Kozlov, are bound to be rigid in their attitude toward sex. They have no wish to be mistaken for hooligans.

It is in the third and fourth generations that trouble usually starts. Then the demand for consumers' goods becomes pressing. Only war or a rising standard of living can save a government under such circumstances. This Khrushchev understands.

Stalin had another alternative, apparently unavailable at the present time: Stalin could and did murder his opposition.

Khrushchev is discovering what a high standard of living really means. No matter what front of dissatisfaction with his visit he erects, he still sees what a high standard of living is in food, dress, and housing. He therefore recognizes what consumer pressure can in time become in his own country.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . .
as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

Shirtwaist Dress Wins Sweepstakes

AP Newsfeatures
That All-American favorite, the shirtwaist dress, sails triumphantly into fall in many versions. One of the most effective is the slim-skirted silhouette in light weight wool tweed, jersey or flannel.

An ambitious home seamstress could make several of these flattering, useful dresses in different fabrics and colors, using the same basic pattern. Local sewing center experts chose a black-and-white wool tweed with collar and belt of black velvet for a first fall dress. It's easy to make if you follow their tips.

They recommend that you reinforce underarm seams where extra strain occurs. This is done most easily by using a fine zig-zag stitch on either your automatic slant-needle sewing machine or the zig-zag attachment for straight-needle machines. This stitch adds flexibility and allows the fabric to "give" without ripping.

The velvet collar of the dress will have a crisper, more tailored look if an interfacing is used. To do this, mark the seam allowance and the fold line of the collar on the interfacing. Set your machine for a medium-large zigzag stitch. Multiple rows of the zigzag stitching placed across the back and covering the area from the fold line to the neck edge will make for a more easily shaped collar. You are cautioned not to stitch into the seam allowance.

To prevent sagging and stretching of the slender skirt, a half skirt lining is advised. This also helps prevent wrinkling.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

He Shore Has Overdid It!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both college graduates. Our business dealings are with rural people. My husband thinks he has to talk to them like they talk to him in order to be a "good fellow." It is disgusting to hear a college educated man say, "He don't, I ain't got nothing," and "He has did."

When we are out socially, my husband forgets and starts talking like a hick. This embarrasses me because I have the feeling that our friends think he doesn't know better.

We've had some heated arguments about this. Don't you think my husband is wrong for intentionally using bad grammar so these farmers won't think he is high hat?

DORA
DEAR DORA: Those who deal with rural people need not butcher the language to be a "good fellow." If your husband intentionally uses poor grammar he had better stop before it becomes his natural way of speaking. (It is habit-forming.) Most modern farmers are as well educated as city dwellers. But those farmers who have not had the benefit of education would hardly accuse a man of being "high hat" because he speaks correctly.

DEAR ABBY: Do you feel a man should keep a picture of his deceased wife in the living room after he has remarried? I think he can remember her just as well with the picture in the drawer. I would appreciate seeing this in the paper because I think I know your answer and I would like a certain party to see it.—Thank you.

STEADY READER
DEAR READER: With all due respect to the deceased wife, her picture should not be displayed in the living room. Only the most insensitive "second wife" would be able to live with it comfortably. When a man remarries, he owes his second wife that comfort.

Shirtwaist Dress Wins Sweepstakes

AP Newsfeatures
That All-American favorite, the shirtwaist dress, sails triumphantly into fall in many versions. One of the most effective is the slim-skirted silhouette in light weight wool tweed, jersey or flannel.

An ambitious home seamstress could make several of these flattering, useful dresses in different fabrics and colors, using the same basic pattern. Local sewing center experts chose a black-and-white wool tweed with collar and belt of black velveteen for a first fall dress. It's easy to make if you follow their tips.

They recommend that you reinforce underarm seams where extra strain occurs. This is done most easily by using a fine zig-zag stitch on either your automatic slant-needle sewing machine or the zig-zagger attachment for straight-needle machines. This stitch adds flexibility and allows the fabric to "give" without ripping.

The velvet collar of the dress will have a crisper, more tailored look if an interfacing is used. To do this, mark the seam allowance and the fold line of the collar on the interfacing. Set your machine for a medium-large zigzag stitch. Multiple rows of the zigzag stitching placed across the back and covering the area from the fold line to the neck edge will make for a more easily shaped collar. You are cautioned not to stitch into the seam allowance.

To prevent sagging and stretching of the slender skirt, a half skirt lining is advised. This also helps prevent wrinkling.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

He Shore Has Overdid It!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both college graduates. Our business dealings are with rural people. My husband thinks he has to talk to them like they talk to him in order to be a "good fellow." It is disgusting to hear a college educated man say, "He don't, I ain't got nothing," and "He has did."

When we are out socially, my husband forgets and starts talking like a hick. This embarrasses me because I have the feeling that our friends think he doesn't know better.

We've had some heated arguments about this. Don't you think my husband is wrong for intentionally using bad grammar so these farmers won't think he is high hat?

DORA

DEAR DORA: Those who deal with rural people need not butcher the language to be a "good fellow." If your husband intentionally uses poor grammar he had better stop before it becomes his natural way of speaking. (It is habit-forming.) Most modern farmers are as well educated as city dwellers. But those farmers who have not had the benefit of education would hardly accuse a man of being "high hat" because he speaks correctly.

DEAR ABBY: Do you feel a man should keep a picture of his deceased wife in the living room after he has remarried? I think he can remember her just as well with the picture in the drawer. I would appreciate seeing this in the paper because I think I know your answer and I would like a certain party to see it.—Thank you.

STEADY READER

DEAR READER: With all due respect to the deceased wife, her picture should not be displayed in the living room. Only the most insensitive "second wife" would be able to live with it comfortably. When a man remarries, he owes his second wife that comfort.

DEAR ABBY: Ever since I was

Boilermakers Appear To Be Team To Beat in Big Ten

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major Midwest football teams.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor
LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Not since 1929—30 years ago—have the Purdue Boilermakers won a Big Ten conference football title outright but the day may soon be at hand. For on this beautiful campus, in athletic director Red Mackey's beautiful new home and on the football field the word is that finally Purdue may grab it all. The husky Purdue eleven battled USLA to a 0-0 deadlock September 18. After resting last Saturday the Boilermakers will prep for a rugged coming clash.

The Boilermakers came up with the finest team of Jack Mollenkopf's three-year effort here last season when they finished with 6-1-2 and Jack has 29 of the 48 men who saw action in 1958 right back with him again.

The pudgy, smiling and very affable Mollenkopf plans to use two units as he has in the past and he counts solid stuff all along the line. "We lack experienced depth at tackle and end," he says, "but we should be all right in the other spots."

Jack cited the loss of Tom Franckhauser at end and big Gene Selawski at tackle as the toughest-to-fill spots.

At the moment he is most happy about the close battle at fullback, where Jack appears to be loaded. The No. 1 crusher, of course, is Bob (The Horse) Jarus, probably the No. 1 Boilermaker All-American hope, who is being given a whale of a fight for the job by Jack Laraway, who filled in for Bob when he suffered an injury late last year.

Jarus was the workhorse of the backfield last year when he carried 115 times, scored 10 touchdowns and made several honor teams.

The rest of the backfield is solid with Ross Fichtner at quarter, Joe Kulbacki and Jim Tiller at left half, and Lennie Wilson and Clyde Washington at right half. Tiller, the 153-pound scooter from Fremont, O., is the spot guy who could be the breakaway boy.

On the line there are two capable ends in Richard Brooks and Len Jardine, with Dan Mason and Manzie Winters ready to help out. Winters is almost 6' 5" tall, has tremendous hands and long arms.

Jerry Beabout and Dale Rems are the tackles and both are around the 215-pound mark. Behind them are Ken Kraus, a sophomore, and Bob Becker, who saw action last year. Rems is injured at the moment and Becker has moved up. Coming along is another sophomore, Ron Skufca, a 6' 5" giant who needs to throw away some of his 255 pounds.

Emory Turner, a senior, and Ron Maltony, a junior, are the guards, with Fred Brandel, senior from Hamilton, O., and Stan Sczurek, a sophomore, giving it a go. Maltony, who was sensational last year, has had a shoulder operation.

Sam Joyner and Terry Sheehan, both seniors, are the centers and rank high in the conference. Kulbacki, from Irvine, Pa., is the fastest back although Tiller can give him a real go. Washington is the team's fine punter.

Mollenkopf again plans to go with two teams, inserting a second complete squad after the first has played eight minutes. But he has quality and experience at most positions to work with.

Purdue's lone loss last year was to Wisconsin, 31 to 7, and there were two ties, with Ohio State and with Indiana as the Hoosiers staged a surprising performance.

The Boilermakers, following Friday's 0-0 deadlock with UCLA, preps for a rough one when Notre Dame comes here on October 3 and then follow games with Wisconsin, Ohio State, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan State, Minnesota and Indiana.

Overall, with their all-around experience, two first teams and a fine backfield the Boilermakers certainly appear as the team to beat for the Big Ten title.

NEXT—Indiana.

Cordier To Receive '59 Ohioana Medal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Andrew Wellington Cordier, a native Ohioan, has been chosen winner of the 1959 Ohioana Career Medal. The award by the Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library Assn. was announced today by Mrs. M. Y. Newcomb, president.

Cordier, executive assistant to United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, is recognized as the world's greatest authority on U. N. procedures and parliamentary law, the association said. He was born near Canton, Ohio, and was originally a teacher.

Before he joined the state department in 1944, he was chairman of the history and political science department at Manchester College. In 1945, he assisted in setting up the U. N., and was then appointed to his present position.

Stock Mart Prices Stage New Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors and steels paced a continued stock market rally early this afternoon. Trading was heavier than Monday.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to more than a point. Chrysler, which has been backward lately, spurted well over 2 points.

Rails joined industrials in the advance which was based to some extent, brokers said, on anticipation that the federal government would intervene in the steel strike and get the mills back into operation.

The rally brought moderate gains to oils, tobaccos, aircrafts, rubbers, chemicals and some non-ferrous metals.

The market was a bit higher from the start then widened its gains under the leadership of automotive stocks and steels.

The continued upward drive surprised some analysts who looked for a pause following the four previous sessions of rebound.

American Motors dropped more than a point. Studebaker-Packard, besieged by buyers, rose more than 1 1/2 as did General Motors.

Among the steels, Lukens was up more than 2 for a while then chopped the gain to a fraction. Youngstown Sheet and Bethlehem were about a point higher.

Reynolds Metals rose more than 2, Southern Pacific about 2 and Texaco well over a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.50 to $22.90 with the industrials up $2.00, the rails up $1.50 and the utilities up 30 cents.

Government bonds drifted lower.

Could Tell Khrush Anywhere, But Couldn't Tell Him Much

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP) — What impact did America have on Nikita Khrushchev?

While in the Soviet Union, Vice President Richard M. Nixon said the Soviet leader suffered from misconceptions about the United States, which could be corrected by visiting us. Well, Khrushchev has been here and gone.

Did we change his mind at all? Indications are that we did, unless, of course, he never believed his own propaganda to begin with.

Reporters on the Khrushchev tour repeatedly asked him whether his visit was altering his own image of America. Repeatedly, Khrushchev ducked a direct answer.

But there were several indirect answers from the round, volatile Communist chief.

In San Francisco, Khrushchev said — maybe he was merely being polite, but he said it — that he saw no difference between the American government and the American people in their desire for peace.

For the last 14 years of the cold war, Communist propagandists have been saying that Americans as a people want peace but the government is warlike.

For years Pravda has been screaming that American business leaders and the "ruling classes" had to keep the cold war going because to end it would bring a depression.

But after meeting with top businessmen in New York, Khrushchev conceded that the United States could move from a war economy to a true-peace economy without economic disaster.

Traditionally, the Moscow propaganda mill has insisted the American worker is oppressed, exploited, underpaid, ill-fed, ill-housed and eternally afraid of sudden unemployment.

But the Khrushchev we saw on this side of the Atlantic said the American worker's situation is "not a bad one at all." He remarked several times about American prosperity and our high standard of living.

But any appraisal of America's impact on Khrushchev must bear this in mind: he evidently never intended for it to have any impact. He obviously came to talk, not see, to persuade, not learn.

But if, as a result, anyone thought Khrushchev was about to turn in his Communist card, the master of the Kremlin disposed of that remote possibility in his farewell appearances in Washington.

"Your country," he said, "has not changed my opinion that our political-social system is the fairest and most productive."

Reporters who followed him from coast to coast concluded that you can tell Nikita Khrushchev anywhere but you can't tell him much.

Wife Charges Assault, Battery

Paul Berling, Route 1, Lockbourne, was cited into Circleville Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of assault and battery.

The court fined Berling $50 and costs and sentenced him to 10 days in jail. The fine and the jail term were suspended and six months probation was imposed.

The affidavit was filed by Kathleen Berling, wife of the accused, who said her husband struck her.

Could Tell Khrush Anywhere, But Couldn't Tell Him Much

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—What impact did America have on Nikita Khrushchev?

While in the Soviet Union, Vice President Richard M. Nixon said the Soviet leader suffered from misconceptions about the United States, which could be corrected by visiting us. Well, Khrushchev has been here and gone.

Did we change his mind at all? Indications are that we did, unless, of course, he never believed his own propaganda to begin with.

Reporters on the Khrushchev tour repeatedly asked him whether his visit was altering his own image of America. Repeatedly, Khrushchev ducked a direct answer.

But there were several indirect answers from the round, volatile Communist chief.

In San Francisco, Khrushchev said—maybe he was merely being polite, but he said it—that he saw no difference between the American government and the American people in their desire for peace.

For the last 14 years of the cold war, Communist propagandists have been saying that Americans as a people want peace but the government is warlike.

For years Pravda has been screaming that American business leaders and the "ruling classes" had to keep the cold war going because to end it would bring a depression.

But after meeting with top businessmen in New York, Khrushchev conceded that the United States could move from a war economy to a true-peace economy without economic disaster.

Traditionally, the Moscow propaganda mill has insisted the American worker is oppressed, exploited, underpaid, ill-fed, ill-housed and eternally afraid of sudden unemployment.

But the Khrushchev we saw on this side of the Atlantic said the American worker's situation is "not a bad one at all." He remarked several times about American prosperity and our high standard of living.

But any appraisal of America's impact on Khrushchev must bear this in mind: he evidently never intended for it to have any impact. He obviously came to talk, not see, to persuade, not learn.

But if, as a result, anyone
